

READ FOR CHANGE. READ FOR OUR NEW WORLD.

Right now, more than a million 14 - 24 year olds around the world are stepping outside their comfort zone. They're learning to lead. They're safely connecting and collaborating. They're communicating and having fun. They're participating in The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award.

Through the Award, young people can develop the crucial skills they need to navigate change and build positive habits, now and in the future. All while gaining an internationally recognised accreditation which is valued by governments, businesses and universities around the world.

READ FOR YOU

The Award is a commitment which encourages young people to:

1. Stay mentally and physically healthy
2. Connect (safely) with others
3. Give back to their communities
4. Embrace structure and purpose
5. Readjust to formal education¹
6. Enjoy themselves!

¹ The Award helps young people to readjust to formal education by developing skills such as resilience, adaptability, problem solving and communication

WORLD CLASS LEARNING, OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM

Bring your child to the Award, so they can benefit from the extra-curricular activities and experiences that the Award offers. Award units are available in many areas, so you can find one near you. Check out the Award website for more information. Find out more about the Award and how you can help your child to become world ready. -find out more about the Award and how you can help your child to become world ready. Check out the Award website for more information.

GET INVOLVED

Encourage your child to unplug and expand their horizons, by taking part in the Award.

Encourage your child to take part in the Award and learn more about the benefits and impacts it can have. Many of the extra-curricular activities your child is already doing can contribute to their Award.

Encourage young people to do the Award: consider offering to help your child's local Award unit by offering your time and talents to support other young people.

Reflect on the Award: encourage others to consider delivering, volunteering, or participating, to ensure more young people can benefit.

Provide financial support: By making a donation to the Award, you can help another young person to benefit from the impact of non-formal education and learning and become world ready.

Young people face exceptional challenge and change. There has never been a more important time to ensure that they are equipped to be resilient and adaptable to that change. To be ready to take on the world of today and tomorrow. The Award is here to help.
